St. James's, May 9.

THE following humble Addreſs of the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, and Gentlemen of the County of Angleſea, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Hugh Williams, Eſq; Repreſentative for that County, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viſcount Townſhend one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, and Gentlemen of the County of Angleſea.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

THough we are ſo unfortunate as to be remote from your Royal Perſon, yet we abundantly feel the happy Influence of your auſpicious Reign; and when we find ſome Powers (whom the greateſt Favours and moſt ſolemn Treaties are too feeble to bind) openly attacking our Properties, ſo glorioufly purchaſed, and undermining our Trade, on which the Being of this Nation depends, and our very Religion and Liberties already attempted to be deſtroy'd, Silence would be a Crime; give us Leave then humbly to aſſure your Majeſty of our unſhaken Loyalty and inviolable Zeal for your Majeſty's Proſperity.

When ſome Parts of your Dominions ungratefully took Arms againſt your Majeſty, your faithful Britons remained untainted without Troops to deter us, ſufficiently reſtrained by our ſincere Affection to the beſt of Kings, and beſt of Princes; but we cannot pretend to any Merit in doing our Duty, when we muſt have become our own Enemies the Moment we commenced yours.

Great Sir, we are ſenſible that Peace is a Bleſſing highly to be valued, but it degenerates into a Curſe, when our Religion, Properties and Liberties muſt be the Sacrifice to procure it; and your Majeſty's tender Regard for thoſe ineſtimable Benefits, will convince the World that you (the true Father of your People) think the Repoſe of your Reign too dearly bought at the Expence of your Subjects Welfare; and we ſhould make a very poor Return to ſo much Goodneſs, were we not ready to undergo all Hazards in the Defence of your Majeſty and your Royal Iſſue, and thoſe invaluable Bleſſings that attend them. Theſe are the hearty Prayers and ſincere Wiſhes of your Majeſty's moſt loyal Subjects.

The following humble Addreſs of the Bailiffs and Burgeſſes of the Corporation of Morpeth in the County of Northumberland, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Lord Morpeth, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

The humble Addreſs of the Bailiffs and Burgeſſes of your Majeſty's ancient and loyal Corporation of Morpeth in the County of Northumberland.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majeſty's great and conſummate Wiſdom, moſt ſignally ſhewn to all Europe, by the early and ſeaſonable Equipment of your Royal Navy, together with your prudent Diſtribution thereof into proper Stations, thereby to ſecure to us and your Majeſty's Allies the deſirable Bleſſings of Peace and Trade; are ſuch ſignal Inſtances not only of your Majeſty's paternal Affection to your own People, but alſo of your Majeſty's unparalleled Sagacity in Matters of State, that ſhould we be ſilent in returning your Majeſty our moſt unfeigned Thanks for the ſame, (which in the moſt dutiful Manner we hereby do) we ſhould think ourſelves wanting in our Duty to ſo good and gracious a Sovereign.

We therefore, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that as it is with the greateſt Pleaſure and Satisfaction we enumerate the the many inestimable Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's most wise and gracious Administration; so we cannot without the utmost Abhorence think upon the unjust and ungrateful Designs formed by some crowned Heads against your sacred Majesty and your Dominions, not only contrary to firm and solemn Treaties then subsisting, but to all known Maxims of Justice and Gratitude.

Permit us, dread Sovereign, in the most dutiful Manner, to assure your Majesty, that we will with our Lives and Fortunes support and defend your Majesty's sacred Person and Government against all your Enemies both at Home and Abroad; and that we will never cease to implore the Divine Providence to bless and preserve to us, not only your Royal Person, together with our happy Constitution both in Church and State, but that there may never be wanting to us one of your most illustrious Family to sway the Scepter of those your Kingdoms now under your Majesty's most wise and prudent Administeration.

The following humble Address of the Mayor, Minister, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Warwick, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord William Pawlet and Nicholas Rothwell, Esq; Mayor of the Town of Warwick, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Minister, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Warwick.

May it please your Majesty,

WE beg Leave to joyn with the rest of your Majesty's dutiful Subjects, in expressing both our utmost Abhorrence of the base Attempts that are made against your Majesty and your Dominions, and our just Sense of your Majesty's Wisdom and Goodness in making such early Discoveries of the Designs of your Enemies, and such seasonable and vigorous Preparations for the Good and Security of your People.

We hope that the Spaniards will once more find the Bravery of a British Garrison, as impregnable as the Fortress of Gibraltar; and that the Emperour, if he persists in his unreasonable Schemes, will rouse the Spirit of a People, to whom he owes his very Power and Capacity of opposing them.

Your Majesty hath shewn a religious Regard to your Alliances, and remarkable Unwillingness to have them dissolved; and we don't doubt, but the open Violation of solemn Treaties, and the most shameful Instances of Ingratitude, as well as your Majesty's Honour and Integrity, will meet with their just Reward.

And we do assure your Majesty, that no artful Insinuations in favour of a Popish Pretender, much less any scandalous Memorials dispersed amongst us, shall lessen our dutiful Esteem for your Majesty: But that you may be always possessed of the best humane Security, the Affections of your People; that you may still hold the Balance of Europe in a glorious Peace or a successful War; and that the like valuable Blessings, after a long Continuance to your Majesty, may be transmitted down to your latest Posterity, shall be faithfully promoted and endeavoured by our Prayers to the Disposer of all Things, by our Interest with our Fellow-Subjects, and by all that our several Stations and sincere Hearts can enable us to do.

The following humble Address of the High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Grand-Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Lymerick, has been presented to His Majesty by his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Grand Jury, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Lymerick, at a General Assizes and General Goal Delivery, held in and for the said County, the 4th Day of April, 1727.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to express our Abhorrence of the repeated Insults and Indignities which have been lately offered to your most sacred Majesty and your People.

But what creates in us the greatest Detestation and Astonishment, is the insolent Memorial lately delivered by the Imperial Resident to your Majesty; the Folly, Audaciousness, and Falsities of which nothing can parrellel but the Ingratitude of that Prince to the British Nation.

The seasonable Discovery made by your Majesty of the destructive Schemes concerned by some ambitious Powers for the Enlargement of their Trade and Dominions, by the Destruction of these Nations, indispensibly require our most grateful Acknowledgments and the utmost Assurances of a determined Resolution in your faithful Subjects of this Country, to sacrifice their Lives and Fortunes in the Vindication and Support of your Honour and sacred Person, against the Attempts and Designs of all your Enemies either at Home or Abroad.

St. James's, May 9. This Day Sir Hans Sloane President, accompanied by the Duke of Richmond, the Duke of Queensbury, the Lord Cadogan, with several of the Council and other Fellows of the Royal Society, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, presented to His Majesty the following most humble Request.

Samuel Granger London

May it please your Majesty,

THE President, Council and Fellows of your Majesty's Royal Society of London for improving Natural Knowledge, your most dutiful Subjects, presume to approach your sacred Person with the deepest Sense of Gratitude for the many inestimable Blessings they enjoy under the Influence of your Majesty's wise and gentle Government.

The numerous Instances of your Royal Favour extended to other Societies founded for the Advancement of Learning, have also encouraged them to beg of your Majesty that they may have the Honour of seeing your august Name inscribed in their Book of Charters and Laws, as their most gracious Patron.

This great Honour, added to the like they have received from some of your Royal Predecessors, will increase the Reputation of the Society; and as it shews them they have the Happiness of being more immediately under your Royal Protection, will yet more strongly incite them to the Pursuit of the great End of their Institution, the Advancement of all Sorts of useful Knowledge, and that particularly by such Observations and Experiments, as may tend to the Improvement of the Natural Produce, the Manufactures, and Navigation of your Majesty's Kingdoms; by which the Riches of the Nation may be encreased, and many Benefits they hope be derived to latest Posterity.

They were most graciously received by His Majesty, who was pleased to write his Name in their Book as Patron of the Society, and the said Noblemen and Gentlemen had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

Whitehall, May 9.

Sir John Norris with the Squadron of His Majesty's Ships of War under his Command, sailed the 5th Instant from the Mouse, three Leagues below the Nore, for the Baltick.

His Majesty has been pleased to order Letters Patents to be passed under the Great Seal of Ireland for granting the Dignity of Baronet of that Kingdom to John Dickson Hamman of Woodhill in the County of Cork.

Admiralty-Office, May 4, 1727.

Whereas at the Time of sitting out His Majesty's Fleet, there were Protections granted from and after the 14th Day of February last, not only to outward-bound Ships, but to Ships and Vessels trading Coastways, Fishing-Vessels, Peter-Boats, and others, several of which are now almost expired; The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty do hereby give Notice, That all such Protections as have been so granted by them, as aforesaid, or to any other Person or Persons whatsoever, shall, notwithstanding the respective Dates thereof, continue in Force for Three Months longer, from this Day, without Renewal; and their Lordships have strictly directed all Captains, Commanders, Lieutenants, and other Officers of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels who now are, or shall be employed in impressing Men, to have a particular Regard thereunto. By Command of their Lordships,

J. Burchett.
